A big bargain.

Now Comes a Stunner.

Lloyd himself (though conscious of always adhering strictly to the truth in all his ads) hardly thinks it possible for you to believe the following

STATEMENTS ABOUT JERSEYS

Until you, with your very own eyes, see the goods, but he considers himself sufficiently acquainted with the certain knowledge that when you do see them you will readily admit that what here appear extravagant fabrications are simply undeniable facts.

Those Facts Are These:

Lloyd has just purchased two very large lots of Jerseys at great losses to the makers, and will run them off tomorrow thusly:

Lot 1 is a mighty-mixed-up lot of

PLAIN WORSTED JERSEYS,

In Blacks and Colors, not a Jersey in the lot worth less than $1.25, and ranging in value up to $2.00, choice of any tomorrow at 39c Each.

The Jerseys in Lot 2

Are pictorially represented by above Cut, are all made of very fine Worsted Jersey Cloth, elaborately braided down the front, on the collar, back and cuffs; the maker's lowest price on these was $2.00 per dozen, regular retail price being $4.00 each.

Lloyd's price $1.25 Each Only.

If you don't now believe such things possible you will when you see the goods. So please come early.

Big lot Dark Colored Felt Skirts, with black flower's satin quilting around the bottom,

49c Each.

SOCIETY MEETINGS.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1884.

Sunday Trains has been appointed Vice-President of the Chicago Board of War.

A cold wave, accompanied by heavy snowstorms, has struck Dakota and Iowa, and is moving Chicagoward.

A DEPARTMENT of 400 French troops has destroyed a Chinese fort and other works between Bakong and Tamsui.

"Uncle" JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY expresses the opinion that the ultimate result of the recent Parliamentary Convention at St. Louis will be the formation of two anti-garrotters' associations—one for the North and the other for the South—and that Chicago will probably be host of the latter, which is to hold its first annual meeting in this city.

THE new Episcopal Church of St. Clement, corner of State and Twentieth streets, Chicago, will be dedicated today by Bishop McLaren.

ROSCOE WILEY of the Alphabetical Reformer (TRUTH FOR publication) at Fog Chew, Idaho, writes us a visit to the Chinese and Japanese kindness.

CLEMENT, DICKEY & CO., New York, importers and dealers in wines and liquors, made an assignment yesterday. Their liabilities are $150,000, and actual assets $75,000.

ADDITIONAL to that now existed plans of Hamilton, the forebears exit of the Union Mutual Life-Insurance Company against the Chicago University, were begun before Judge Blodgett yesterday.

JUDGE BOGLE has sustained the validity of the assessment made by the West Chicago Park Commissioners to defray the cost of the south-west boulevard, running from Douglas Park to the South Park.

EXCEPTING the Dingelstedt petition, to shall to publish a statement concerning Gorgel, the Dingelstedt commander, whose surrender to the Russians in 1866 brought upon him the reproach of being a traitor to the Hungarian cause.

TWO enterprising persons named Ryan and Wilson tested platform Chinese into a shop at Victoria, British Columbia, intending to smuggle them into Washington Territory. The shop was raptured on the route and the entire party thrown.

D. C. WHITNEY & CO., hardwood dealers at St. Paul, Minn., have placed their property in the hands of trustees. Their liabilities are said to be $60,000 and their assets $100,000. The head of the firm thinks the embarrassment will be but temporary and says the creditors will all be paid in full.

A SPECIAL fatality seems to attend the Court martial trial at Jackson, Mich. In addition to the sickness of a juror and a resulting postponement for two days, Frank E. Hamlin, the Prosecuting Attorney, died suddenly yesterday morning, his death involving a further postponement until his successor can be appointed.

A MEMBER of authority has accepted between the Pope and the Jesuit College in the Province of Quebec. The Papal Nuncio recently issued an order declaring Laval University the only one in the province, and commanding all colleges to affiliate with it. The Jesuit authorities refused to obey, declaring that the Jesuit order is under such rules regarding education that even the Pope cannot interfere with it.

THE Chicago produce markets were fairly active Saturday, with a decidedly stronger tone to wheat, but further weakness in hogs, provisions, and corn. As compared with Friday, pork closed 7½ cents lower, lard 5½ cents lower, meats 5 cents lower, bogs 7½ cents lower, wheat 1¾ cents higher, corn a shade easier, oats ¼ cent higher, barley ½ cent lower, rye and flaxseed unchanged. Our stocks appear to have increased during last week by about 700,000 bushels in wheat and 500,000 bushels in corn.

THE National Cattlemen's Convention at St. Louis wound up its business yesterday and adjourned. C. C. Dunn of Texas was made Chairman of the committee to urge the cattle question on the attention of Congress, and the principal resolution, which has been pending several days, was adopted with some amendments. The newly-organized National Cattle and Horse Growers' Association met subsequently and elected permanent officers, Col. G. B. Hunter of St. Louis being chosen President by acclamation.

IN THE Adams Hartigan libel suit at London yesterday, the court ruled that the defendant's letter to Miss Coleridge, his client, was a privileged communication, and that the plaintiff, in order to maintain his case, must prove express malice or dishonesty on the part of the defendant. The Judge decided to leave the case to the jury, reserving the right to decide the action on the point of law if the verdict was not warranted by the evidence. The jury brought in a verdict for £5,000, which the Judge overruled and gave a verdict for young Coleridge, with costs.

DOUGLAS ANTHONY GARDNER admitted another charge against Gen. Swaim in the court-martial proceedings yesterday, the gist of which is that Swaim wrongfully conducted to prevent an official investigation by causing a disbursor from Missouri based upon false representations. Gen. Swaim declined to plead to the additional charge on the ground that it had not come from a proper authority. The court finally told otherwise, and ordered the charge and specification to be filed for future action. Further proceedings were postponed until tomorrow.

THE receipts of the members of the St. Paul and Northwestern Roads, elsewhere printed, will interest a large number of people who have watched the course of the two stocks in the last six months. There has been a remarkable recovery in the price of St. Paul on the New York Stock Exchange since the depression of June, and the relative value of the two stocks has been much under discussion. The recent decline in Northwestern was a matter of surprise to many persons in the West, where its friends are legion. Northwestern is still higher than St. Paul, but men of good judgment are not aware who think that the St. Paul is the more valuable property. The article will perhaps enable students of the subject to form a more correct judgment. It is written by a gentleman who may be called an expert in such investigations.

THE Privy Council at Baltimore will hold its third session session today. Particular high cases will be sung by Archbishop Feehan of Chicago, and Bishop Fitzgerald of Little Rock, O.S., will preach the sermon. It is believed the council will consummate the establishment by the Pope of new sees at Duluth, D.; Wisconsin and Fox River, Minn.; Sioux Falls, Conn.; Utica, Binghamton, and Rhodes, N. Y.; Springfield and Cairo, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Fond du Lac, Wis.; Minneapolis, Minn.; and Paterson, N. J. Some letter system for graduation in the order of the clergy is also under consideration. It is understood that the council has complied with the Pope's wish by adopting the canon law, by which the Catholic Church in America will formally become a part of the United Catholic Church of the world, governed by the same laws as those adopted by the Council of Trent.

THE official canvass of Cook County, completed yesterday, gives Blaine 89,261, Cleveland 88,261, St. John 3,711, and Butler 2,711. The official canvass for the rest of the State, as received, would then run up by the Secretary of State and Auditor, will be delivered to the Governor on Tuesday next. The official vote for the entire State will be announced by the Governor on the 15th of December, and the Electoral College will meet at Springfield on the 16th.

A Review of Social and Personal Events in the Cream City.

An Interesting Epitome of the Social and Dramatical Situation.

Talk of a New Morning Paper to Be Democratic in Its Political Tendencies.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

[Special Correspondence of The Tribune.]

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The Rev. Robert Sheldon, C. S. C., of Toronto, Ont., is under treatment for bronchitis at the rooms of the Progressive Society. Rev. Sheldon has been supplying pastor of the new Holy Trinity Church at Racine, which will be dedicated Thanksgiving Day by Vicar-Gen. Nash. Father Sheldon preaches extempore sermons and will not forsake friends in Canada. The right Reverend Curtis is showing Father to the northern part of the State.

A musical and literary entertainment of a high order of excellence and a "coffee" at Bailey's Hall by the Martha and Mary Society, arranged and managed as the parish of the Immaculate Church by the Young People's Literary Association of the church, occurred last night at the Saltonstall's Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association. Some people of the members of the Immaculate Church [illegible] to locate at the residences of Mr. F. Weber and Albert Kirk, 120 Eighth street, and at the Grand Avenue Congregational Church [illegible] at the parlors of Young Men's Christian Association building. Although the attendance was not large, the entertainment was very enjoyable. The Saltonstall Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, from which the Immaculate Church withdrew its support, is now in a flourishing condition, the membership having increased from 200 to 400 since the withdrawal of the Immaculate Church. The Young Men's Christian Association building, which was erected by the Saltonstall Branch, is now free from debt, and the Young Men's Christian Association of Milwaukee has the finest building of the kind in the State. The Saltonstall Branch is connected by electric cars with the Grand Avenue Congregational Church, which is located in the northern suburbs of the city. The Saltonstall Branch has been instrumental in securing the Young Men's Christian Association building for the Grand Avenue Congregational Church, and has been the means of bringing many people into the church. The Saltonstall Branch has been conducted by Secretary Hall, who has been assisted by Mr. Robert A. Cary, formerly of Chicago, who has been engaged by the Young Men's Christian Association of Milwaukee to take charge of the Saltonstall Branch. Mr. Cary has been very successful in his work, and has been highly complimented by the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Milwaukee for the success he has had in the Saltonstall Branch. Mr. Cary has resigned his position as secretary of the Saltonstall Branch, to take effect Dec. 1, and will be succeeded by Mr. Robert A. Cary, formerly assistant secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago, who has been engaged by the Young Men's Christian Association of Milwaukee for Exchange at the principal cities of the United States for last two days:

Rates for New York exchange were quoted as follows yesterday:

Chicago, par@par.
Boston, 10@15c premium.
St. Louis, 5c premium.
Cincinnati, 25@50c premium.
New Orleans, $1.50 premium.

There was only a moderate run of business at the banks yesterday, but there were many evidences that the people are looking for better times and are cautiously making their arrangements thereby. The Sub-Treasury, to get for the Knights of Confederacy among the banks selected to fill box and bag contracts of the year. There is no considerable activity on that score in this city, and if a contract were to be awarded here it would be to some strong old firm of the locality and not to a new one. The strength of the speculative markets has rather given strength to all classes. There has been a small movement of currency yesterday, but the Sub-Treasury was unlikely in favor of this city. The rates of Eastern exchange were large at the principal points. Some bankers expect an improvement for about two days, and the best bankers seem not to look for much Monday, though a good deal of cash is still expected.

There was no significant movement of the foreign exchange market. The rates in this city were as follows:

The bids to-day for sterling exchange were about as follows:

The following were the closing figures on the Stock Exchange, except Gould & Sloane's, to-day, to show that the price has added actively and

The New York stock market has gone, and there was no feature of consequence except perhaps the strength of Railroads. One stock broker in session in Chicago as to a few weeks ago. It is probable that many thousands of it have been picked up at the low prices by people who will not readily part with it. The bankers are hard to sell anything very confidently to the present condition of public sentiment, but there is no very good buying of the list outside of a few stocks. The feeling prevailed again yesterday that the New York Central is holding to get control of the West Shore and is unloading the Erie on passengers even with that end in view. The rates between Buffalo and Chicago, which it was said would be restored, are again demoralized. The New York Central officials are known, but they will make no direct move except on explicit orders from President Vanderbilt. Some of the Vanderbilt brokers express the opinion that the dividend of Lake Shore will be passed. An intimation has been served to prevent the Joint Control from having votes in the leading East and West securities. A majority of the new stock of the Richmond & Danville Road has already been taken. The dividends of the Richmond Terminal Road for the quarter ending Sept. 30 is said to be less favorable than the average for the quarter past. Another Director of the Erie denies that an agency's certificate has been issued about the $1,500,000 now issued. The books of the Oregon Transcontinental Company will close Nov. 15, when the privilege of subscribing to the new bonds will expire. The books remain the 15th. Robert Garrett and A. J. Cassatt are mentioned for the Directory of the Texas Pacific Road.

The weekly statement of the New York associated banks shows an excess of specie and legal tenders above the 25 per cent required by law of the deposit banks according to our figures, $3,000,000. This is the highest point reached. The percentage of reserve to deposit liabilities is over 41. The highest percentage to any previous year since the resumption of specie payments was a little over 30 in the last week of January, 1875, when, owing to the shock to the system of resumption, the banks naturally were somewhat strong in specie. While the accumulation of funds in the New York banks must be taken as an evidence of the stagnation of business, it should be borne in mind that the increase of the specie item in the present statement is due largely to the importation of gold. The deposits have not increased much. The falling off in the loans is the encouraging feature, but the progress to a time of an easy state it is not to be expected that new engagements will be made today. The following are the items of the statement:

ENGLISH POLITICS.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 22.—[Special.] The complexity is beginning to be regarded as a favorable symptom by Gladstone and a favorable symptom by Salisbury. Throughout the whole length the Prime Minister has been hesitating and unable to give the last decisive thrust which would have driven the Tories out of office, and the feeling of the public is not at all unanimous that the Government has the right and ought long ago to have taken the initiative in the matter of the Soudan. Chamberlain has the most serious misgivings about the Egyptian entanglement, but, however, he may feel, he is bound to support the Government, for the reason that Salisbury would not hesitate for a moment to turn out the Liberals if they showed any disposition to desert the Government. Gladstone, on the other hand, is in a position of extreme difficulty. He is not unwilling to see the Tories in office, but he is unwilling to see them in office with a majority at their back. He would like to see them in office with a majority against them, and he is doing his best to bring about that result. Everybody is waiting for the Parnellites to declare themselves. Their action will be decisive. They are the only party which is not in a position of extreme difficulty. Their policy is to keep the Government in office, and they will do so unless they are forced to vote against it on some question which they regard as vital. Their action will be governed entirely by the question of Irish interests. They will not hesitate to turn out the Government if they think that the Irish cause can be advanced by so doing. NEW YORK.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

New York, Nov. 28.—[Special.]—It is being discovered gradually that social gayety, pretty much as usual in all the previous seasons, will not begin and terminate in accordance with the fortunes of Cleveland. In the most cultured aristocracies has undoubtedly appreciated the city's social necessities, and that fortunately, fashion, and society generally have got their eyes clear of the dust and smoke of the late election.

Hardly since the harvest of a gay and memorable week, the Patriot Cotillon was given in the ballroom of the house of Delmonico, in Fourth Avenue, by Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., better known this side, with simple friendly candor, as Grace Wilson. It was a pleasant and appropriate setting for the beginning of a meeting as social as Cornelius in the world. The bride party traveling down to town and through the gardens to get their guests in merry and cheerful mood. The large number of ladies present in full dress added romantic interest to the gallery of the musicians, and made a smooth show in the lights and flowers and mirrors of the ballroom, even the dancers with plain. The wedding presents were not shown, but they were scarcely to be surpassed except by any bride this season.

[illegible] The "General Committee" formed for the benefit of the Metropolitan Opera House met on Saturday afternoon, when the [illegible] when the audience, under Mr. Damrosch's baton, sang "America" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Mrs. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin gave a dance on Thursday evening at their residence, No. 7 East Fifty-seventh street, in honor of their daughter, Miss Lucretia Iselin. The house was prettily decorated with flowers and palms, and the dancing was kept up until a late hour. Among those present were Miss Iselin, Miss Rhinelander, Miss Stevens, Miss Cutting, Miss Livingston, Miss Vanderbilt, Miss Wilson, Miss Lorillard, Miss Sloane, Miss Hitchcock, Miss Tiffany, Miss Cushing, Miss Hoffman, Miss Hunter, Miss Hamilton, Miss Hoyt, Miss Bronson, Miss Hall, Miss Wetmore, Miss Hone

THE ASTORS.

How the Affairs of the Richest Family in America Are Managed.

Social Responsibility in Importance and Investments Scarcely Demanded of All.

How Carrie Astor's Marriage and Its Talk Is Made—The Present Heads of the House.

New York, Nov. 21.—[Special Correspondence.]—The Astors do everything well. They are never fortunes, original, or accumulated; the women of the family are not straitlaced fanatics, and the boys have games home-grown—but they are of seventy gauge and they never make mistakes. When a wealthy colored man appeared in the Astor family social circle ago an explosion was certain. So was a reserved gallery in a country house, where the rest may surrender to every luxury, be visited by eligible physicians, happy and wise, or shelved in the left. The worst and purest were treated in time. Prince to rule at all demands known to fame. Astor is the only quiet person who ever registered there on the books of a public hospital by his true name, especially at times of being extremely conservative—and to have the first child has put it to the fountain fear of society. If there is one family in America which stands at the head of society which is undisputed leading and conservative combination with unchallenged position, it is the youngest little group that is descended from the last heiress and Great Bore-grave.

When the eighties into South Astor came to New York, 50 years ago, he honored very crudely in the favour of being highly respectable. He also believed that New York would be great. He had most to should vigorously work great farms, was discovered and hasty, and subscribed for every spare a few dollars to bought ground above the City of New York. The rents grew larger and much John Jacob a millionaire, but he kept right on buying above the city limits and was always a modest and respectable man. Prime to grow rich for years and years of allowing and gained the his own money of allowing and gained the [illegible] were to have no fear; there was no one else to buy, and were no gore here. In the matter of authority between the United States and the County of Cook the former accept yesterday morning to get a fi- [illegible] for the book of it. At the hour of 10 o'clock a solitary deputy arrived at an early moment the door of the United States grand jury room, busily engaged in saving the time to a less extent. In other words feel been present, though the jurors were noisy. In those of county officers there arrived a scene unaccustomed of various parties interested in the case, among them Justice Scully, John Thompson (D.), Republican supervisor of election at the Second Precinct of the Eighteenth Ward; Ed Lyle, a Democratic clerk; and C. A. Hulbert, a Republican challenger at the same place. There was a long wait, Scully referred to the appearance of Mike Brand, County Clerk, accompanied by Captain Kersten, at the same session the United States District attorney, and J. M. Allen, foreman of the jury under on the grand. Talbot was first out of the door of the Supervisors.

"You are here, I see," said Col. Talbot.

"I am," replied Mr. Allen.

"Do you want to go in?" inquired Col. Talbot.

"At any time you wish," said the County Clerk.

"Did you bring the documents I wanted—the ballots, tally-sheet, and poll-book?" asked the Colonel.

"No," replied Brand shortly, "as I won't bring them, either."

The Colonel scanned for the 1g, but invited Brand into the jury-room. Three hours, the latter acted his reasons for not complying with the subpoena in quite emphatic terms. "Have no cause nor the question was asked him:

"Do you do that on the advice of a Judge?"

"I do, and a dozen of them. I told them to [illegible] that I would give no ruling. I absolutely and positively refused to surrender the records."

Mr. Brand had already received the news of the rule of Judge Blodgett, and the announcement came with triumph.

Justice Gresham was next. Inside the [illegible] room, but his stay was brief and he left the Supervisors' room unmolested.

C. H. Hackett, the Democratic challenger, was called to quit very unceremoniously and [illegible] the instructions given the petitioner for by Supervisor Schuster. He participated in [illegible] the figures of the book of all the Lemon and Fit for Robert as given to the [illegible] to the City Supervisors.

Mr. Brand seemed to be no further business to do there, and the door was kept open [illegible] the great [illegible] of the county [illegible] the consummation of [illegible] which [illegible] the completion of their service.

HISTORY REPEATS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Postmaster Dudley is not clearing the New York Post-Office Miscellany. He is only following the example of his predecessors. Ever since the days of Washington the Post-Office Department has been a sort of catch-all for odds and ends of the service. Whenever any Congressman has a constituent who wants a job, he comes to the Post-Office Department and asks for it. Whenever any Congressman has a constituent who wants to get rid of a job, he comes to the Post-Office Department and asks to have it abolished. Whenever any Congressman has a constituent who wants to get a job, he comes to the Post-Office Department and asks to have it created [Philadelphia, Pa., Bee. 31.—Special Correspondence.]—It fell the two hot weeks and Philadelphia society is divided into warring camps, as one side or the other is for peace or war. The trouble is chiefly owing to the fact that our entertainers are not quite as well posted on their neighbors who live and congregate, and they have not been abreast of the times. When our men of note read the capital of the young Republic, and Washington, as Providence, lived where a big challenge was not taken to shoot from, the people of those days accurately knew at least actually almost to an inch and the first shots that were to bring them down. Since that time the lines have changed and so much that you may step through it as a boundless for half an hour without passing the bounds. The two organizers are, however, for the betterment of the sexes here and their managers look out the Reporters and the Records would be more highly complete than the assistance of the Inquirer. Either, therefore, personal worth or at any rate and with them, but what they demand to know above all things before they will think of anything else is who your grandfather was. Don't offer your wife, your or a certificate of character. They are no to that and they hunt the ladies as well as the gents of each stage.

In England, you know, when a man becomes an old fool he commonly keep clear with those of the environment, they prefer him a Duchess or some other title thing like that, and of course he becomes an unfortunate. Advocates of the segregation of the ruling classes. Over in Paris, also, are not so fair to their grandfathers. They don't put upright beard on their cane and something to start a pin to the parting occasion. What is the result? The result is that there is a high order of wrecks who do not know grandfather from the Roosevelt, and you, dauntless dame reading, often don't care to know. Grandfather is a nuisance, and you don't want to be bothered with him. Over in Philadelphia, on the other hand, we are all more or less children counting for

THE DRAMA.

A Brilliant Week.

It is said that the first impression made upon the actor of the value to Mr. Booth's house is one of disappointment. The magnitude of the auditorium allows about the proportion that suits many. In fact the art of Joseph Jefferson, Mr. Booth's successor, is of a quieter kind than that of the tragedian. Mr. Jefferson can fill a house of the dimensions which gives rise to the complaint in Mr. Booth's case, but he could not do so with the art of Joseph Jefferson. Mr. Booth's success with a house of the dimensions which gives rise to complaint is due to the fact that he has a personality to convey. To criticise the representation of Hamlet after witnessing only a few scenes is one thing, to criticise the conception after seeing all is another and very different thing. Mr. Booth's conception of Hamlet is a consistent one, and the more it is seen the more it will be appreciated. Mr. Booth's conception of the character is not that of the conventional Hamlet, but it is the one which the great actor has studied for himself, and which he has presented to the public for many years. It is the one which has been accepted by the public as the best that has been seen on the stage in this generation. It is the one which has been accepted by the critics as the most intellectual and the most consistent. It is the one which has been accepted by the actors as the most difficult to act, and the most exacting in its requirements. It is the one which has been accepted by the public as the most original and the most interesting. It is the one which has been accepted by the public as the most artistic.
